

Your Hospital, Your Health, Your Charity

See the difference your support is making...

Welcome

We're delighted to welcome you to our latest update, demonstrating the impact you are having on the lives of thousands of local people being treated at Salisbury District Hospital. None of the work featured would be possible without your generous donations, fundraising, and of course the gifts we receive from those who so kindly remember the Stars Appeal and the Hospital in their Wills.

Over the past year, support like yours has enabled us to fund more than £2million of projects enhancing the care delivered across our Hospital. Together we've furnished and equipped a new 24-bed ward for our older people, helped cut waiting times for heart patients with an additional echocardiogram machine and supported patients across the Hospital through providing clothing and toiletry packs, free Wi-Fi and support with their mental health and wellbeing. Alongside this, we continue to help provide our hardworking hospital staff with morale boosting treats including Christmas meals and hampers, along with direct access to a dedicated staff counsellor.

Inside you can read more about some of these projects, the impact they are having and most importantly the stories of some of the local people they are helping. We are so grateful to all of those who courageously share their experiences of the care they have had at Salisbury District Hospital and how that care has been enhanced by work funded by the Stars Appeal.

So thank you for your support and, if you can, please continue to help us make our Hospital even better. You are making a huge difference to the lives of so many local people. Thank you once again and we hope you have a wonderful Christmas and New Year.

New cots bring comfort to mums and babies

Babies born on the Hospital's maternity wards are sleeping even more comfortably thanks to the arrival of 20 specialist cots funded by generous donations.

The new cots, which cost a total of £38,000, are helping the 2,200 babies born at the Hospital each year as well as making things easier for their mums. They are height adjustable and have drop-down panels so mums are able to sleep right by their baby's side in comfort.

First-time mum Lizzie Johnson says: "The cots are brilliant as they turn into a 'next to you' crib. This was fantastic especially when I was finding it painful to bend and I couldn't lift Noah out of the cot. It meant I could sleep by his side and keep him settled through the night."

▲ Charlotte Harryman with her baby Matilda

Mum Charlotte Harryman also praised the specialist cots and adds: "It was lovely to be closer to Matilda and not have to stare at her through a plastic screen. It also felt safer to co-sleep with her and getting her in and out of the cot was so much easier. The cot made it more comfortable to be with my baby. Matilda loved being in the new cot."

Maternity Matron Becky Roberts says: "We want to thank the wonderful Stars Appeal supporters for their generosity, which is providing babies and their families with the best equipment possible for their care and comfort."

"These new cots give mums the chance to sleep side-by-side with their babies, which enables greater bonding in the first few hours and days of life. They can feel closer to their babies even when they are unable to get out of bed. We look forward to seeing even more babies who are born in Salisbury resting well in enhanced comfort."

How you are supporting local people with cancer

Stars Appeal projects support thousands of local people with cancer at the Hospital every year.

Through your donations, fundraising and kind gifts left in Wills we can continue providing the latest treatment and diagnostic equipment as well as those little extras to make time in hospital more comfortable, including aromatherapy sessions and free drinks and refreshments for chemotherapy and oncology outpatients on the Pembroke Cancer Unit.

A legacy gift of £45,000 enabled us to fund new scalp cooling machines, which are helping chemotherapy patients to keep their hair while they undergo treatment.

Elaine Joy, who was diagnosed with breast cancer in August 2024 and is currently having chemotherapy, is just one of the patients who is benefitting from the new scalp cooling machines and wellbeing projects provided by the charity.

▲ Patient Sarah Church enjoying a hand massage from Stars Appeal Aromatherapist Shelley Baker

▲ Elaine Joy on the Pembroke Unit

She says: "It is brilliant to have the scalp cooling machines. My hair is an important part of my identity and for me it would be a massive upset to lose it. Having the scalp coolers gives you hope that you won't lose all your hair. I'm just so grateful this equipment is here."

"It's lovely to have cups of tea and refreshments to keep me going when I'm having my treatment. The aromatherapy massages are really good too, it makes you feel pampered sitting on the comfy Stars Appeal recliners with your feet up!"

New scopes enabling faster diagnosis for head and neck cancer patients

New high-definition videoscopes are enabling patients with suspected head and neck cancers to get a faster diagnosis.

The six £115,000 scopes, funded by your kind support, are providing doctors with the best quality images to assess and diagnose patients who have been referred to the Hospital with a suspicious neck lump or a suspected head and neck cancer.

They are being used as part of a new 'one-stop' diagnostic service being led by the Hospital's Ear, Nose and Throat (ENT) and Maxillo Facial teams. Prior to this, patients had to visit multiple departments across the Hospital for diagnostic checks. Now they can have everything happen in one place meaning a less stressful, more efficient, and better service for over 1,200 head and neck patients each year.

The scopes are also helping patients previously diagnosed with head and neck cancers as the images can be recorded and allow any changes in a patient's condition to be detected more easily. In addition to this, the new equipment makes the diagnostic procedure a more comfortable experience for patients.

Dr Shraddha Jain says: "The scopes have made a huge difference to the service we are able to offer, enabling faster diagnosis for our patients with a suspected head or neck cancer. The superior image quality gives us the best chance of diagnosing cancers on the first visit, which provides greater reassurance to patients. Being able to diagnose cancers early means we can start treatment quicker, which has better outcomes for our patients. Thank you very much to Stars Appeal supporters for making this possible. We are incredibly grateful."

Your support is making great things happen at your hospital

Here are some examples of the equipment and projects that your support has helped to fund over the last year.

Stars Appeal Play Assistant

Being in hospital can be a scary time, especially for children. Your support is making sure their time here is a more fun and enjoyable experience by funding a dedicated Stars Appeal Play Assistant on the Children's Unit.

Our Play Assistant Emma Lewis is there to brighten up a child's day, playing games with them and bringing toys and activities to their bedside when they are unable to leave their room. She supports children who are feeling anxious about having blood tests or other procedures like scans or X-Rays.

Your donations also fund specialist play therapy equipment such as a virtual reality headset, sensory toys and games consoles, which are a great distraction for children while they're in hospital.

Equipment for Operating Theatres

Thanks to an incredible £420,000 in donations, fundraising and legacy gifts, we've equipped not one but four of the Hospital's operating theatres with state-of-the-art equipment enabling the Hospital to carry out more minimally invasive surgery.

The new equipment enables the Hospital to treat around 1,000 extra patients using laparoscopic (keyhole) and endoscopic techniques rather than open surgery.

This helps reduce the risk of complications and speeds up recovery times after surgery meaning patients spend less time in hospital. And quicker operations are freeing up space across the Hospital's 16 operating theatres, cutting waiting times for everyone including cancer patients.

Wet Room for Odstock Ward

Patients recovering from severe burns or injuries that limit their mobility have a new wet room where they can wash more independently in a comfortable, private space. The £40,000 Stars Appeal funded wet room on Odstock Burns and Plastics Ward includes a walk-in shower and is accessible for wheelchairs and other mobility aids, helping patients recovering from severe burns or reconstructive surgery to adjust to a new personal care routine with privacy and dignity.

'By your side' Sleeper Chairs

Those needing to stay alongside a loved one in hospital can now do so in comfort. Your support has enabled us to fund 36 'by your side' sleeper chairs at a cost of £1,400 each so that vulnerable patients and those at the end of their lives can have someone close stay by their side.

The sleeper chairs, which easily convert from an armchair into a comfortable bed, will help patients and their families across all the wards at the Hospital. Previously, relatives could only be offered upright or partially reclining chairs which were uncomfortable and very difficult to sleep on. These chairs allow patients and loved ones to be together in comfort during very difficult times and enable much-needed sleep and rest.

OCT Machine for the Eye Clinic

Macular degeneration patients are benefitting from new state-of-the-art equipment in the Eye Clinic enabling them to be scanned and treated on the same day in a 'one-stop' clinic.

The 3D OCT (Optical Coherence Tomography) machine helps diagnose macular degeneration, which can lead to sight loss. It replaces the need for a physical examination.

It is helping to reduce waiting times and enable patients to be diagnosed faster.

The £37,000 machine is used in 10,000 appointments each year. It was funded by a generous donation from long-time Stars Appeal supporters John and Ann Kelly in recognition of care that Ann receives on the Eye Clinic from Consultant Mrs Uma Thakur and her team.

Please help us fund more vital work like this by making a one-off donation, giving a monthly gift, fundraising for us, or remembering us in your Will. Please complete the donation form on the back page of this update, call us on 01722 429005 or visit www.starsappeal.org – thank you.

New ward transforms care for older people in hospital

▲ Staff celebrate the opening of Imber Ward

The Hospital's new 'Imber' Ward opened in June, providing care for older patients in a modern, purpose-designed building.

Thanks to our generous supporters, the Stars Appeal funded £600,000 of equipment, including the latest patient monitoring system, along with furnishings and artwork to create a state-of-the-art, dementia-friendly environment. The ward forms part of the new Elizabeth Building, the construction of which was funded by a £14m grant from NHS England.

Imber Ward offers 24 additional beds across spacious four-bed bays and eight en suite single rooms, where elderly patients are cared for in a dedicated space tailored to their needs. The Stars Appeal funded furnishings and artworks have created a bright, modern and relaxing space and the advanced patient monitoring system means staff can provide care for even the most unwell patients without having to transfer them to other wards. The new ward also allows the Hospital's surgical beds to be better utilised, helping to reduce waiting times for operations.

Linda Howard, who was recently cared for on Imber Ward after an illness, says: “The ward is lovely. I like the wall art and the colours. It makes you feel calmer. It cheers people up and makes their stay in hospital a little better. The space in the side room I stayed in was fabulous and the bathroom was great. I've had brilliant care and the rapport with the staff has been amazing.”

Much of the Stars Appeal funding for the new ward has been made possible thanks to the legacy gifts of those who have so kindly remembered us in their Wills. This generosity has been recognised on a special plaque within the ward.

Nurse Consultant in Elderly Care and Stars Appeal Ambassador James Lee said: “What the Stars Appeal has helped to achieve here, through support from local people, is providing the care, the hope and the energy our patients need to recover quicker and get back to their homes and back to their loved ones. Over the years to come, Imber Ward will benefit tens of thousands of older patients along with their families and the staff that will work here – thank you.”

Richard Joy, whose late wife Pamela kindly left a gift to the Stars Appeal in her Will, said Pamela's legacy was “helping the many not the few” and praised the new ward saying “I am completely bowled over by Imber Ward. It is wonderful. I am so proud of what Pam did and what all the other legators have made possible.”

Neal and Els' story

Please be aware this story talks about baby loss.

Neal Riley, who lives in Gussage St Michael, shares how the Stars Appeal Benson Suite and Bereavement Midwife helped him and his wife Els.

"Els and I married in 2012, for 10 years we'd been trying for a family without success. We didn't think it was going to happen, however suddenly in September 2022, we found that Els was pregnant. We were overjoyed.

We had lots of scans and although it always seemed that our baby was going to be on the smaller side, it was nothing that gave anyone cause for alarm.

On 10th of January, Els was 31 weeks pregnant. She was saying she had a backache so was going to have a rest. Before too long, she went into full labour.

Whilst the paramedics were en route, they gave me instructions on how to deliver Oscar and to try and resuscitate him. I failed, I couldn't bring Oscar back. When the paramedics arrived, they confirmed he was stillborn, born sleeping.

▼ Bereavement Midwife Steph Thompson

Neal and Els Riley

We were taken by ambulance to the Stars Appeal Benson Suite, next to the Hospital's Maternity Ward. We spent time with Oscar as a family, contemplating and trying to understand what had just happened. We'd taken 10 years to get to that point and as we sat there holding Oscar, we both agreed that we had to try again.

The Stars Appeal Bereavement Midwife, Steph, supported us through everything. She was our guide in the darkest of hours. We buried Oscar in a Woodland Burial Ground next to my mum's grave.

Luckily, within about three months, we found out Els was pregnant again. So all of a sudden we went from the lowest of lows to the highest of highs, but a very nervous high.

Through the pregnancy we were always concerned. There was anxiety at all the scans, just hoping that everything was okay. Everyone at the Hospital was great. We had consultations every couple of weeks and extra tests. We agreed that our baby would be delivered by C-section at 37 weeks. We were so excited, we were counting down the days.

"I'd like to thank all of you that donate to the Stars Appeal for the difference that you have made to us. We couldn't have got through this without the love and support shown to us on the Benson Suite."

We had a scan at 34 weeks and all was good. Els went to see her midwife as usual the following Wednesday. She couldn't detect a heartbeat. We went straight to the Hospital and three or four scans later, it was confirmed. We returned to the Benson Suite where, on the 24th of November, Els gave birth to our daughter, Sophie. Sophie was also born sleeping.

Again the Benson Suite and Steph were invaluable, we knew what was ahead of us but they helped us get through it. We later laid Sophie to rest next to Oscar.

The Benson Suite is so important. It provides a space away from the Maternity Ward where you can have all the time you need with your baby. Although it's a part of the Hospital, it doesn't feel clinical in the slightest. It gave us the space to be a family where we could process the tragedy and come to terms with losing Oscar and Sophie.

▼ Inside the Benson Baby Bereavement Suite

Steph, the Stars Appeal Bereavement Midwife, did such an amazing job ensuring that the little time we had with our babies was as special as possible, making sure we had photographs, memory boxes and other keepsakes. Steph phones us regularly and has been so supportive throughout our difficult journey. Both Steph and her colleague Beccy came to Sophie's funeral.

I'd like to thank all of you that donate to the Stars Appeal for the difference that you have made to us. We couldn't have got through this without the love and support shown to us on the Benson Suite.

The 10th January and the 24th November 2023 will always be days etched on our hearts. We still have our dream that we will have our rainbow baby, and one day we will walk out of Salisbury Hospital as a family rather than with a memory box."

▲ Neal and Els with the support of friends and family have raised over £23,000 for the Benson Suite in memory of Oscar and Sophie

▲ Emergency Department Charge Nurse James Cash and Consultant, Dr Neil Garrett with the mechanical CPR machine

Enhancing care for heart patients

Thousands of local heart patients are benefitting from enhanced equipment funded by your donations and fundraising and the gifts we receive from those who so kindly remember us in their Wills.

Your support has helped us to fund an additional echocardiogram machine for the Cardiac Investigation Unit and the Hospital's first-ever mechanical CPR machine.

On the Cardiac Investigation Unit, the extra echocardiogram machine means heart patients have faster access to scans. It's enabling staff to see 40 more patients a week, helping to reduce waiting times so patients can get a diagnosis more quickly.

The £142,000 echocardiogram machine uses ultrasound to show a detailed image of a patient's heart, detecting any abnormalities or serious heart conditions. It provides doctors with the best images possible to aid diagnosis.

David Richards, 85, used the machine when he was admitted to hospital after having a heart attack. He says: "It was very good having the latest equipment. It is an incredible machine which was able to show that my heart was not seriously damaged. I had excellent care with remarkable, hi-tech equipment that was provided by the Stars Appeal, which I am very grateful for."

Consultant Cardiologist and Stars Appeal Ambassador Dr Susie Lewis says: "Thank you to everyone who supports the Stars Appeal whose donations have helped fund this amazing equipment. It is helping us deliver the best cardiology care to our patients. Having this additional echocardiogram machine has given us extra capacity so we can see more patients, which is reducing the time people are having to wait for a scan."

Your support has also funded a £15,000 CPR machine, which provides an automated system to carry out consistent and high-quality chest compressions to a patient in cardiac arrest. Previously, during a cardiac arrest, a number of staff were needed to perform manual CPR compressions, often for long periods of time. This new device can do this without tiring, freeing up staff to focus on other vital duties.

Adrian's story

Meet Adrian Abbott, 54, from Salisbury, who is just one of the people your donations help.

"In August 2023, I was at work driving a forklift when I suffered a cardiac arrest. I collapsed and fell from the machine, landing head-first on concrete. Luckily for me, one of my colleagues was on hand within only a few minutes to give me CPR. Another gave me two shocks from a defibrillator. They called an ambulance, which rushed me to Salisbury District Hospital.

The stars definitely aligned for me that day. I would never have made it to the Hospital without my colleagues at work. I want to thank them and the paramedics for saving my life.

Once at the Hospital, and after a head CT scan and the installation of a coronary stent, I was placed in an induced coma and spent a week in the Radnor Intensive Care Unit. It was a really difficult time for my family, especially my three daughters and Joan, my wife. They were the ones waving me off that morning and then not seeing me come back. And whilst I was in hospital, blissfully unaware of what was going on, they were the ones being told that I might have brain damage and that I might never wake up.

"I was aware of the Stars Appeal before my heart attack, but I had not realised just how different the patient experience at the Hospital would be without it."

As my recovery progressed, I moved to Tisbury Cardiac Ward and was fitted with two more stents before coming home. I am so grateful to the doctors and nurses of the ICU, my Cardiology Consultant, Dr Nabias and his team, and the Cardiac Rehabilitation Nurses who I saw during my recovery.

I also want to thank the Stars Appeal who bought the equipment needed to establish the service that enables cardiac patients to have stents fitted in Salisbury. Without that, I would have had to be transferred to Bournemouth or Southampton. More recently, Stars have funded other important projects for heart patients, including the additional echocardiogram machine on the Cardiac Investigation Unit, and the Hospital's first mechanical CPR machine. Even as I write, this equipment is helping local patients like me, and will help thousands more over the years to come.

The charity also provides the smaller things: toiletry packs for people that arrive in an emergency, as I did, free Wi-Fi, and equipment and refreshments for the cardiac rehabilitation courses that helped me so much in my recovery.

I was aware of the Stars Appeal before my heart attack, but I had not realised just how different the patient experience at the Hospital would be without it. It is pretty much impossible to come into the Hospital and not be touched by projects, equipment or facilities funded by the charity.

I'd like to thank all of you reading this that donate to the Stars Appeal for helping me and my family and I ask that you continue to support the charity's vital work."
